Earthquake Relief Funds Pouring in at Coastal Community Credit Union

January 21, 2010 – Vancouver Island: Almost $18,000 has been collected so far in Coastal Community's Haiti disaster relief account to be directed through the Red Cross.

Last week's devastating earthquake in Haiti prompted Coastal Community to establish the account. Judging by the amount of contributions pouring in, Islanders are eager to offer support to the Red Cross and their relief and recovery efforts in Haiti.

Coastal Community members, clients, and the general public interested in supporting the Red Cross and their operations in Haiti are invited to keep making contributions at any Coastal Community branch across Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands. Both cash and cheques are being accepted. Should you like a tax receipt for your donation, Coastal Community will forward your applicable information to the Red Cross. Please visit any Coastal Community branch to make your donation.
